MARKET COMMENTARY

The second quarter was the first negative quarter for equity markets since the first quarter of 2009. Concern about sovereign debt issues and sluggish global economic growth weighed on equity markets this period. Investor nervousness increased demonstrably, with the Chicago Board Options Exchange Volatility Index ("VIX"), a popular measure of the implied volatility of S&P 500 index options, doubling from its low in the quarter. Returns for international equities denominated in U.S. dollars were further pressured by the translation effects of dollar strength versus nearly all other major currencies (the Japanese yen was a notable exception). The euro was particularly weak, losing over 10% versus the U.S. dollar this quarter. Every industry group and developed country (except Singapore) delivered negative returns this period. The worst performance came from Greece, which lost 34% in local terms (40% when measured in U.S. dollars). The Fund underperformed the MSCI World Index in the second quarter. Fund holdings in the consumer services and energy industry groups detracted from relative performance, while Fund holdings in the capital goods, materials, and insurance industry groups contributed to relative performance gains. Two of the largest individual detractors from performance were energy services companies, Technip (France) and Transocean (United States). Investors are concerned about the impact of BP's Gulf oil spill. Additional top detractors included for-profit education company, Apollo Group (United States), construction & toll roads/car parks concessions operator, Vinci (France), and sports betting & lottery provider, OPAP (Greece). The top individual contributor to return was automation & robotics manufacturer, Fanuc (Japan). Other notable top contributors to performance were aerospace and defense equipment manufacturer, EADS (France), global miner, Rio Tinto (United Kingdom), insurer, Sony Financial (Japan) and health care provider, Health Net (United States).

Weights as of 6/30/10: Technip (2.9%), Transocean (1.1%), Apollo Group (2.3%), Vinci (2.0%), OPAP (1.0%), Fanuc (2.5%), EADS (2.2%), Rio Tinto (1.9%), Sony Financial (2.8%), Health Net (1.7%). Holdings are subject to change; additionally, current and future holdings are subject to risk.*
